ABOUT ME

🚀 Senior Software Engineer with 8+ years of experience crafting advanced web applications—primarily on the frontend, while also thriving in full-stack environments. I specialize in translating complex ideas into clean, performing, user-focused experiences.

Curious and self-driven, I constantly explore emerging tools and techniques—including AI—to elevate my workflow, improve productivity, and build innovative solutions. From automating routine dev tasks to leveraging LLMs for code reviews, prototyping, or brainstorming, AI has become a powerful extension of my development toolkit.

I'm passionate about continuous growth, team collaboration, and pushing boundaries to deliver meaningful impact through technology.
